bly invoke the God of our fathers, for wisdom and firmness to execute its high and responsible emigrants have done much to promote the growth duties, in such amanner, as to restore harmony and the smilent friendship among the people of fathird, both in peace and in war. After become the several States; and to preserve our free intrinsions throughout many generations. Continuous that I owe my election to the inherent love for the constitution and the Union, which still animates the hearts of the American probable between the same and the Union. The Federal Constitution is a grant from the States to Congress, or certain specific powers. ple: let me earnestly sak their poweiful support in sustaining all just measures, calculated to per-petuate these, the richest pointies, blessings which heaven has bestowed upon any nation. Having determined not to become a condidate for re-election, I shall have no motive to influence my conduct in administering the government, except the desire, ably and faithfully to serve my country, and live in the grateful meserve my country, and live in the grateful memory of my countrymen.

An executity passed through a Presidential contest in which the passions of our fellow citizens were excited in the highest degree by questions of deep and vital importance; but when the people proclaimed their will, the tempest at once subsided and all was calm. The voice of the majority, speaking in the manner prescribed by the Constitution, an instant submission followed. Our own county could alone have exhibited so grand and striking a spectacle of the capacity of man for self-government.

What a happy conception then was it for Congress to apply this simple rule, that the will of the majority shall govern, to the settlement of the question of domestic Slavery, in the Territories. Congress is neither to legislate Slavery into any Territory or State, nor to exclude it therefrom, but to leave the people thereof perfectly free to form and regulate their domestic neither one in their own way, subject only to the nstitutions in their own way, subject only to the Constitution of t e U.S. As a natural consequence Constitution of t e U.S. As a natural consequence Congress has also prescribed that when the Ter-ritory of Kansas shall be admitted as a State, and shall be received with, or without Slavery, as their Constitution shall prescribe at the time of their admission.

A different opinion has arisen in regard to the time when the people of the Territory shall decide this question for themselves. This is, happily, a inster of but little practical film-portance; and, besides, is a judicial question which legitimately belongs to the Supremic Court of the United States, before whom it is now pending, and will, it is understood, be speedily and finally settled. To their decision in common with all good citizens, I shall cheerfully submit, whatever this may be, though it has fully submit, whatever this may be though it has been my individual opinion that, under the Nebeen my individual opinion that, under the Ne-braska Kansas act, the appropriate period will be when the number of actual residents in the Ter-nitory shall justify the formation of a Constitu-tion, with a view to its admission as a State into e Union. But be this as it may, it is the imperative and the Union.

But be this as it may, it is the imperative and indispensable duty of the government of the United States to secure to every resident inhabitant the free and independent expression of his opinion by his vote. This must be preserved. This being accomplished, nothing can be fatier than to leave the people of a territory, free from all foreign interference, to decide their own destiny for themselves, subject only to the constitution of the United States.

The whole Territorial question being thus settled upon the principle of popular sovereignty—a principle as ancient as free government, itself; every thing of a practical nature has been decided, and no other question remains for adjustment, because all agree that under the Constitution, slavery in the States is beyond the reach of any human power, except that of the respective States themselves wherein it exists. May we not then hope that the long agitation of this subject is approaching its end, and that the goographical parties, to which it has given birth, so much dreaded by the Father of his Country, will speedily become extinct? Most happy will it be for the country when the public mind, shall be diverted from this question to others of inore pressing and practical influence.

Throughout the whole progress of this agitution, which has scarcely known any interinission for more than twenty years, whilst it has been productive of no positive good to say human being, it has been the prolific source of great evils to the master, to the slave and to the whole country. It has allented and to the whole country. It has allented and estranged the people of the slave and a catenaged the people of the sister States from each other, and has seriously endangered the very existance of the Union. Nor has the danger yet entirely for all mere political evils, in the sound, severe and all mere political evils, in the sound, severe and towyears ago existed and exist existence of the people. Those is a great corrective. The political subjects which, but a few years ago existed and exist exceeded their dominions by the sound, we have never acquired any territory existence. But this question of domestic silvery that the people to blend their design of the programme of the importance than any hittor politics. Let every Union Laving; many therefore exert his best influence to suppress this agitation, which since the recent Legislation of the control is without any legitimate objects. It is Congress, is without any legitimate object. It is an evil of the times that men bave undertaken to calculate the mere material value of the University

Reasoned estimates have been presented of the pecuniary profits and local advantages, which would result to different States and Sections Dom. would result to different States and sections from its dissolution; of the comparative injuries which such an event would inflict on other States and sections. Even desending to this low and narrow view of the mighty question all such calculations are at fault. The bare reference to a single consideration will be conclusive on this point. We at present enjoy a free trade, throughout our extensive and expansive country, such as the wold never before winessid.

This trade is conducted on ratiroads and canals, on noble sivers and arms of the sea, which bind together the North and the South, the East, and West of our Confederacy. Annihilities this trade, arrest its free progress, by the geographical lines of jealous and hostile States, and you destroy the prosperity and onward march of the whole and every part, and involve all in one common ruin.

in. Bat such considerations, important as they are in themselves, such into insignificance, when we reflect on the terrific evils which would result from disunion, to every portion of the confederacy, to the North not more than to the South, to the East not more than to the West. These I shall not attempt to portray, because I feel an immble confidence that the kind Providence which inspired our Fathers with wisdom to frame which inspired our valuers with washed to frame the most perfect form of government and union, ever devised by man, will not suffor it to peaking until it shall have been peacefully instrument dy by its example, in the extension of civil and religious liberty throughout the world.

Next in importance to the maintenance of the Constitution and the Union, is the daty of preserving the government from from the taint or even the suspicion of corruption. Public virtue is the vital spirit of a Republic; and History proves that; when this has decayed and the love of money has usuped its place, although the forms of government may remain for a season, the substance has departed forever.

Our present financial condition is without a parallel in History. No nation has ever before been embarrassed from too large a surplus in its

This almost necessarily gives birth to extravdefence of our extended sea coset.

It is beyond all question the true principle that no more revenue ought to be collected from the people than the amount necessary to defray the expenses of a wise, economical and efficient administration of the government.

To reach this point it was necessary to resort to a modification of the Tariff and this has been ccomplished in such a manner to do as little in-

The Federal Constitution is a grant from the States to Congress, of certain specific powers, and the question whether this grant shall be liberally or strictly construed, has more or less divided political parties from the beginning. Without entering upon the argument, I desire to state of the commencement of my administration, that long experience and observation have convinced me that a strict convincion of the news of the me that a strict construction of the powers of the

me that a strict construction of the powers of the government is the only true as well as the only safe theory of the Constitution.

Whenever in our past history doubtful powers have been exercised by Congress, they have neveralisted to produce injunious and unhappy consequences. Many such instances might be adduced lithis were the proper occasion. Neither is it incomesney for the public service to strain the language, because all the great and useful powers required for a successful administration of the government, both in peace and in war, have been granted either in express terms or by evien granted either in express terms or by evi dent implication. While deeply convinced of these trutis, I yet consider it clear that under the war making power Congress may appropriate money towards the construction of a military against foreign invasion.

Under the Constitution, Congress has power to declare war, to raise and support armies, to provide and maintain the militis, to repel inva-

In case of a war with a naval power much stronger than our own, we should have no other available access to the Pacific coast, because available access to the Pacine Coast, because such a power would instantly close the fourter across the isthmus of Central America. It is impossible to conceive that whilst the Constitution has expressly required Congress to defend all the States, it should yet deny to them, by any fair construction, the only possible means by which one of these States can be defended. Besides the government, ever since its origin, has been in the constant practice of constructing

I forbear for the present from expressing an opinion as to the wisest and most economical mode in which the government can end its aid in accomplishing this great and ne-cessary work. plain principles approved by our own experience from which we should never depart. We ought to cultivate peace, commerce and friendship with all nations; and this not merely as the best means of promoting our own national interests, but in a spirit of christian benevolence towards or fellow men, wherever their lot may be cast.

Our diplomacy should be direct and frank, red and independent people to blend their des-tinies with our own. Even our nequisitions from Mexico form no exceptions. Unwilling to take advantage of the war against a sister Republic, we purchased these possessions, under the treaty of peace, for a sum which was considered at the prosperous and happy. Their trade with the state of their world has rapidly increased, and thus every commercial nation has shared largely in their successful progress. I shall now proceed to take the oath prescribed by the Constitution, whilst humbly invoking the blessing of the Divine Providence on this great people.

We awake this morning with new feelings, new hopes, new aspirations. Everything about us seems to have changed. The buildings look more dignified, and the inhabitants carry their heads much higher, in fact overything seems to be burrahing for the city of Berlin.

Ten years since, N. H. Strong preempted the story on which that portion of Berlin lying east of Fox River is now situated, and his idea of building up a respectable village here, was pronounced

This almost necessarily gives birth to extrive agant Legislation. It produces wild schemes of expenditures, and begets a race of speculators and jobbers, whose ingenuity is exerted in contriving and promoting expedients to obtain the public money. ELECTION, TUESDAY, APRIL 7.

The Inaugural Address. The Inaugural Address of President BUCHANan, of which we published a brief sketch on Thursday last, will be found in full in this morning's paper. Its tone is good, its language moderate and its promises fair. The President makes haste, indeed, to recognize his obligations to the pro-slavery party who elected him, and to renew his promises of fidelity to their views and interests. But with this grave exception, the Inaugural is, in the main, unobjectionable in spirit and sentiment. Let us hope that the prac-

NEW YORK, March 3, '57. Here is March upon us, lion-like indeed; with cold driving snow-storm, that brings back the orrors of our bard winter. After two or three days of most lovely weather, we are thus transported again to Siberian cold and storms and of course we grumble. But yet, more closely scanned, this very storm may be very merciful in its consequences to regetation; for already in February-prematurely very, for these latitudes -the buds began to swell, the blue-birds had come back, and the awakening of Nature from its winter trance, seemed at hand. Unless thus early checked, this vernal reviving might have day, might have cut off many hopes. And yet er-was passed.

ve grumble. Such is our nature. This storm may interfere-if it be, as from its haracter here seems probable, of wide extentwith the fervency of the patriots who are wont to congregate at Washington on the 4th of March to welcome the rising sun. Very large arrangenents are made by the Rail Roads through New Jersey for transporting these Parsees—these vorshippers of a sun that, as I regard it, has not many of the celestial attributes. I am indeed affinzed at what seems to me the delusion with which some sensible people anticipate from the Cobb, of Georgia, is the main reliance of the futhe proper discharge of the office of Chief Secretary. In this particular, he is not unlike the President himself, who has no faculty of consistency, or uprightness-in the sense of standing up for what is right against the importunities, or commands, or esjolings, or threats of party-and least of all, of resisting the evil influences of such men as Forney, or Dan Sickles, in whose companionship he is said to delight .--Mr. Cobb is a bold and able man, but uninstructed and inexperienced in finance, of which he is pabilities, for the floor of the House of Repreentatives than for the bard work, which a faithful and honest Secretary of the Treasury must aer for in . The recent intelligence from Kansas, adds not little to my apprehension from the ascendancy which I conjecture the Southern policy is to save in the councils of Mr. Buchanan. If the Senate adjourns, as I suppose they will, without lismissing Lecompte, or passing some bill to abolish the infamous laws and Legislature, so called, of Kansas, that State is doomed to Slavery, or to bloody revolution-and of the iwo. I would prefer the last. I never would consent to submission to such mockery of legislation as now holds away in Kansas-better any alternative than that of voluntarily surrendering to wrong and infamy. If indeed the Supreme Court shall decide--as seems to be confidently predicted, in the case of Dred Scott, that the Missouri Compromise is unconstitutional and that the Congress of the United States cannot prohibit Slavery in the Territories, and Kansas shall by force, such as we have witnessed, be made a Slave State-a blow will be struck at the Union, more fatal and more menacing than all South Carolina bullyings and boastings ever offeeted. I hope for better things, but fear the worst and if it is to come, desire that it may come in my day and generation, rather than be postponed. I carnestly cutortain the desire, so eloquently expressed by Webster, in his best and noblest days and in one of his best and noall over, in letters of living light, with the words

The Assembly last night did a great work, in going through carefully in Committee with the Assessment Bill, and ordering it engrossed. It passed to day. I do not, I think, exaggerate the importance of this bill when I say, that if no other bill at this session should have become a law (I am assured that this will pass the Senate,) it would have been worth while for a whole session to have been consumed on it alone. Its faithful operation will at once elevate Wisconsin, in valuation of property, among the first States in the Union, and will equilize taxation

To-day has been a busy day in Assombly. First, a resolution of instruction to Congressaen, introduced by Mr. Lovell, was passed, against the admission of any future states in which Slavery is legalized or Polygamy tolerated -and in layor of such action by the Genetal Government as will secure free omigration to the territories and peaceable exercise of rights therein.

It is done by him as the local representative of his own town, Prescott, and the people of that place at least will be grateful to him. It is not probable that Hudson will like it over much.

The Assembly concurred with the Senate in instructing the Secretary of State to publish the former mill-dam law, revived at the present session, with the law which revives it. The bill for a division of Marquette Co. (taking off Berlin, Seneca and Neshkoro to go to nomonee, was killed.

A new county, of "Clay," was organized—that is, if the bill passes the Senate,-taken from Polk county.

A bill from the Senate, introduced there by Mr. Cook, relative to the kind of bills which banks may receive on deposit, &c., was killed. Committee proposing amendments to the Banking Law to be submitted to the people this fall, passed, amended so as to admit as banking securities, the Fox River Improvement Co.'s bonds at 90 per cent. on their market value. These bonds are secured by a deed of trust to the State of all the lands and property of the Company.

his creditors. Before obtaining attachment, plaintiff must give an undertaking, to pay all costs and damages, that the defendant may sustain by reason of the attachment, in at least $250. Several attachments may be issued at the same time to Sheriffs of different counties. After an Execution returned unsatisfied the judgment debtor may be compelled to testify on oath concerning his property; and after Execution issued, any person having property of debtor, may also be examined on oath, as to property in his possession belonging to judgment debtor, and on such examination neither, of said parties will be excused from answering questions, on the ground that the answer will tend to convict them of fraud, but such testimony cannot be used in a criminal prosecution against them. Judgment by confession, may be made either for money due or to become due, or to secure a of the defendant.

No person shall be excluded from testifying as a witness by reason of his interest in the event of the action, but this does not apply to a party to the action.

Any party to an action may be examined as a witness at the instance of the adverse party, and his attendance may be compelled &c, and the party so examined, may then offer himself as a witness in his own behalt.

Plaintiffs and defendants may be examined as Plaintiffs and defendants may be examined as witnesses by their co-plaintiffs and co-defendants, when they are not jointly interested or llable, and when a separate judgment may be rendered. An assignor of a thing in action or contract may be examined as a witness, in behalf of any person, desiring title through or from him.

INAUGURAL ADDRESS!

In administering this important trust whilst it may be wise to grant portions of them for the may be wise to grant portions of them for the improvement of the remainder, yet we should improve the forget that it is our cardinal policy to reserve these lands as much as may be for actual settlers. We shall thus not only best promote the prosperity of the new States, by furnishing the prosperi

ANOTHER SUIT AGAINST THE MILWAUERE GAS: don't Co. The Company Spatamen. A few days since an action was brought before Alment Spata, Esq., Juntee of the Peace, by Sidney Shephard, against the Gas Light On , noder the following state of facts:

The plaintiff, by his agent, spplied to the Gas Co. for gas to light his store on East Water street, said store being prepared with fatures, &c., necessary for the reception of gas, and tendered the company the sum of $5.00. The Company offered to supply the gas, but upon the terms contained in the rules and regulations, a copy of which was served upon the pasintiff's agent. The plaintiff refused to receive the gas upon three terms and conditions, and brought an action on the case. The flat forcease upon brought an action on the case. The Gas Company upon the trial, set up in defence the reless and regulations, and averred sheir willingness to furnish gas, but only upon a compliance with those rules and regulations, made as med under their charter. The question before the Court was whether those rules and regulations were reasonable and such as the company had had the power to make under the char-

rais Lof printed pamphlet, which states in substance that applicable must apply in writing and alon regulations do: This, the Court held to be reasonable; that the Gas Co. were not bound to have ready at all, times witnesses to observe and witness the application, but might, with justice, and in right, under their chartes, require written ev

This last chause, which we have itsitolsed, was the prineipal greened upon which the plaintif objected to sign the raises and regulations; and this the Court held to be utterly void upon its face, stating that it was an assumption to legislate on the part of the Gas Co. To the Creditors of the GERMAN AND BANK.

THE HATTERN MEAN THAN having already passed of some the dress payment of the indebenous of the determants. Bank was made, and it appearing to us that the allatinous said bank designed; are left in a sleeping and, dying condition, we, the andersigned, creditors of the same, deem it our imperative duty to protect our property, and to energetically use, all hoporable means to further the final settlement of its affairs.

I. W. A. Jacont, one of the undersigned, lately sirvetigated the condition of said Bank, and thereby was convinced that there is not only each enough on hand to pay a respectable dividend immediately, but also that its affairs. If conducted, honestly and industricusly, can be brought? in a speedy and very satisfactory close.

We, therefore, invite all creditors of the Germania Bank to meet on Monday, the 16th inst, at Mr. Beothel's Mansion House, corney of third and Cheanut Streets, Second Ward, for the purpose of consulting and taking the proper steps to secompilish this object. We also request said dreditors to provide themselves with their certificates of deposit, or other papers by which they can prove to he orablerior the Germania Bank, it being desirable that only such ereditors may attend said meeting. The absences will have to submit to the resolves of those present.
